

Co-Creation of Research with Patients and Other Partners

Course Syllabus

2024-2025

ONLINE COURSE

MODULE 1

Overarching Principles

DATE/TIME

Thursday, Oct 17th, 2024
13:30 to 16:30 EDT

LANGUAGE

English

FREE REGISTRATION

www.camccol.com

DESCRIPTION

This course will explore how to engage patients and public partners and knowledge users in research going through the main steps and elements to consider for co-creation of research with patients and other partners. This course will be presented in collaboration with two patient partners involved in perinatal research.

LEARNING OBJECTIVES

- How to identify and engage with patients and public partners in research
- Appreciation and conflicts of interest policies for patients and public partners in research
- Capacity-building/training for patients and public partners in research
- Evaluating and reporting patient and public engagement in research
- How to consider ethics and equity, diversity, and inclusion (EDI) in research
- How to embed EDI in the research process
- Lessons learned and resources available on patient and public engagement in research

PRESENTED BY

Dr. Andrea Tricco

Associate Professor, University of Toronto

✉ andrea.tricco@unityhealth.to

WITH TWO PATIENT PARTNERS

Dr. Kristi McIntosh

Dr. Amanda Doherty-Kirby